Descriptions

Core Courses

Bible Interpretation:

Roy Zuck wrote, "We must know the meaning of the Bible before we can know its message for today. We must understand its sense then before we can see its significance for now." This course will present basic principles to be followed in the interpretation of Scripture. Upon completing the course, a student will be able to understand key terms, the various literary genres of the Bible, and how to apply interpretive principles to Scripture in a way that will enhance participation in local church ministry.
